

RED CROSS ALONE SAVED LIVES OF PRISONERS IN GERMANY

Says Captain Curran in Address to Campaign Workers—Kingston Nurse's Letter Shows Vital Work Organization is Doing in Army Hospitals Here—Ward Captains Show Good Results.

The first meeting of the Red Cross workers, at which reports were given, was held at the Y. M. C. A. on Monday evening, when at nine o'clock the women of the public health committee of the Federation of Women's Clubs served the workers with "hot dogs," delicious coffee and apple pie.

The meeting began with the singing of the first verse of America, after which Captain Young of the Salvation Army asked the blessing.

After greetings all present and offering an encouraging word, Presiding Chairman John E. Mahar, told the workers that the memberships and money received from the various industries would be divided among the teams according to the ward in which those members live, as in former years. This information was given for the benefit of the service men who had been in former wars.

Mr. Mahar then introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Curran of the British Army, who was two years in a German prison camp and who had been twice around the world. He told of the work of the American Red Cross and of war conditions from quite a different angle from that approached by former speakers. Moreover he spoke with the conviction of actual experience, and so naturally and with so humorously at times that he certainly did inspire his audience.

Dr. Curran said he had come to address his comrades, his American Legion associates, his fellow Americans. He said he had been in Arkansas, where he was sometimes known as a "Swamp Angel," again as a "Razor Back," but he had not come to talk to the men of "Sunny France." Some people seemed to think, according to the speaker, that the American Red Cross began with our getting into the war, but if that had been the case he would not have been able to tell of his experiences.

Dr. Curran was in England in 1914 when the war broke out, and of the 46 Rhodes Scholars of Kings College who immediately enlisted, he was one of the sixteen now living. The speaker knew that the men before him needed no reminder from him of the hell that they had gone through in France, but they might not know what he did about Germany during the war. Yet what he was going to tell was not to stir up animosity and hatred, but "Lest we forget." And, said the speaker, "When America forgets she forgets." "Should we forget then, the 46,000 of our men who lie on the fields of France and Flanders who have died in vain."

Dr. Curran then told most graphically of being in a patrol boat, looking for submarines when the boat was captured by the German raider. His boat being disabled, they were told to "take to the boats," but there were no boats to take to, the Germans had looked out for that, and the speaker vouched for the fact that one hesitated to accept the invitation to become a good Baptist in the middle of the Atlantic on a cold November day. The prisoners of war were put about the Moewe and quartered right over the magazines, being locked below the water line where 400 of them were squeezed in a space half the size of the Y. M. C. A. gym floor. They had the cold room deck to sleep on. Considering their position, they did not enjoy the seven successful engagements in which the Moewe took part. Continuing his photographic description of the final landing in Germany, the speaker told of their reception and of meeting Prince Henry of Prussia, who asked Dr. Brown of Virginia, companion of Dr. Curran, and the speaker where they came from. They told, expecting to get at least a courteous greeting as officers from the man who had received such honors at the hands of the American people. Learning that they were from America, Prince Henry's greeting was, "Damn you and your country."

They were taken to two old, disused barns where their bunk beds were fitted up with strips of straw, and they were not especially warmly clad, as men wear as little as possible when in the water and anxious to warm as they were when captured. They were there five days. The picture of the five days' stay was both vivid and disgusting in spite of the humor with which it was related. When they were packed into cattle cars, forty men to a "side door Pullman," and were carried to a point on the Baltic. There their camp in a disused dugout was half underground, and when it rained, they floated out, said the speaker.

Again they were moved, this time to Carlsburg, where they found they were to have a new camp, just fitted up. When asked how long they would be kept there, they were told that no one knew. The reason for the move was that this camp had been built at a point usually chosen by the Allies to drop their bombs, and in order to make more shipping, the target, the place was brilliantly illuminated at night, so that the bombers could not miss it, when the

NEW PALTZ GIRL HAS DISAPPEARED

Charles Bedore of New Paltz is anxious to secure some information of the whereabouts of his daughter, Helen, 19, who left home early Saturday evening and crossed on the 8:40 ferry to Poughkeepsie where all trace of her was lost. She took with her, according to information Bedore gave the police, $300 of his money, two diamond rings and a plush coat of her mother's.

The girl, who had been employed in Stamford, Conn., had been visiting her parents for about two weeks. She is described as 5 feet 5 inches tall, wears a turban hat trimmed with white feathers, a brown dress trimmed with lace, and carried a tan suit case.

The American language was spoken and taught. They have been actually European colonies here in these United States. Dr. Curran was, however, thankful to note that that day was past. And he hoped for the passage of the bill which should demand a three years probation from the foreigners, in order that they might learn American standards, the American language, to become Americans. If they were unwilling to do this, they should be promptly sent back to the place from whence they came.

In closing, Dr. Curran said, "It is up to you men who have been overseas to shoulder this burden. The flag for which you offered your life, for which, perhaps your buddies gave their life, is being held up to ridicule by the agitators throughout the land. 86 per cent of whom are foreigners; men who are not Americans and who while they live under this flag of ours would like to tear it to shreds. It is up to you to decide that if they will not live as they should under this flag, they shall go back to the places where they came from, and if they cannot go by ships at once they will need to be darn good swimmers for a short while."

"The gospel of the Red Cross is Americanization for humanity. What we need today is less so called Christianity and more of the actual and actualizing spirit of Jesus Christ."

The meeting was then given over to the receiving of reports which were as follows:

Chairman Mahar announced that at the meeting of workers on Wednesday night at 2 o'clock at the Y, the reports from the industrial teams would also be received.

Mrs. C. N. Reed then read a letter received from Miss Helen Clearwater, formerly of Kingston, and who is now in training as a U. S. Red Cross nurse at the U. S. A. Red Cross General Hospital, Staten Island. Before reading the letter, however, Mrs. Reed told the returned service men of the splendor of work which Miss Clearwater has always done for and in every emergency Red Cross drive, as well as in doing every sort of war relief work, accomplishing a vast deal through her efficiency and untiring enthusiasm and spirited pushing of the work. No matter how tired, and

SALOONS FORESEE LIFTING OF BAN

Eagerly awaiting a decision in the injunction suit brought by the National Brewers Association to prevent the enforcement of the Volstead law, and reading in the New York newspapers that bankers of New York have received positive assurance that the liquor ban will be lifted in time to allow banks that hold millions of dollars worth of warehouse certificates as collateral time to liquidate these imperilled securities, the greater part of the Ulster county saloon keepers are retaining their licenses. Only about a dozen in the city and wet towns have surrendered their liquor tax certificates to the county treasurer, they however, not closing, but selling buttermilk, cider, one half of one percent beverage, and soft drinks, which those who retain their licenses are also doing. Beer drinkers are not taking to the liquid dispensed in place of beer, being satisfied with an occasional glass, which most drinkers characterize as slops. Not over two or three saloon men have any of the 2.75 per cent beer left, and if any of it is sold it is done quietly to friends.

LITTLE CHANGE IN W. S. TRAINS

Monday's item in Freeman Based on Notice From R. R. Administration Which Was Cancelled.

Monday's Freeman contained an item saying that a number of trains had been discontinued on the West Shore railroad. These trains have not been discontinued and the only changes in the running of trains are those contained in the last part of the item, which read as follows:

The new schedule of trains on the West Shore railroad which went into effect Sunday, shows few changes in the time of arrival or departure of local trains. Train No. 9, which arrived from New York at 6:25 a. m. now arrives at 6:18, departing for Albany at 6:32. There is a change of a few minutes earlier at each station north of Newburgh. Train No. 11, which arrived at 11 o'clock, now arrives and departs two minutes later.

South bound train No. 30, which left Kingston at 7:15 a. m., is scheduled to leave now at 7:10 a. m., and local stations south five minutes earlier than formerly.

Monday's item was based on an official notice from the U. S. R. R. Administration received at this office and marked "Important" in large type. The order, it is learned, was later cancelled. The "Safety First" policy of the railroads in annulling an order to all who have received it was not followed in this instance.

Eighty-five tried the test, of whom more than fifteen were women. Postmaster DeWitt expressed satisfaction at the number appearing, though regretting the unavoidable absence of a considerable contingent.

INDICATIONS POINT TO EARLY SETTLEMENT OF COAL STRIKE

Gompers and Many Other Factors Working Toward Adjustment—Miners Willing to Negotiate on Basis of Cost of Living.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Washington, Nov. 4.—Despite a lack of any sensational turn in the coal strike situation up to this, the fourth day since the walkout, it is believed here that a settlement of the trouble will not be long delayed. Under the placid surface of things many influences are at work all leading toward that end. Both government circles and moderate labor groups are known to be working in concert to effect a reconciliation between the coal miners and the operators before the public has time to suffer the horrors of a coal famine.

Samuel Gompers, it is known here, is using his influence to obtain a prompt settlement along moderate lines.

Wallace's Settlement Plan.
Edgar Wallace, official representative of the United Mine Workers in Washington, and one of the few leaders whose tongue is not tied by the Indianapolis injunction, stated that the miners are willing to negotiate with the operators on either one of two bases: First, on the basis of present selling price of coal, otherwise on the ability of the operators to pay; second, on the basis of the present cost of living.

That ultimately the adjustment between the operators and miners will be made, at least in part, on the cost of living basis, may be accepted as a foregone conclusion, whether the federal government acts as supreme arbiter, or the nearly 400,000 men out on strike deal directly with the operators—as many if not all of the miners' leaders prefer.

The Situation Today.
About 400,000 soft coal miners reported out. They demand regular work a thirty hour week and sixty per cent increase over present pay. Operators willing to arbitrate if strike called off. Federal government willing to appoint arbiters if the men return to the mines, thus putting themselves again within the law.

YUDENITCH ARMY IN BAD POSITION

By Telegram to The Freeman.
London, Nov. 4.—The advancing Bolshevik army southwest of Petrograd has captured Gatchina and Luga and the position of General Yudenitch's "white" army has become precarious, according to advices from Helsingfors today.

One unconfirmed report said that General Yudenitch's army was nearly surrounded.

A News Agency correspondent at the Finnish capital reported General Yudenitch's forces were retreating, falling back to a line nine miles west of the positions held Thursday.

Dis. No. 10, George Comback 12.06
Public collection 75.50

Total raised $627.35
Balance to be raised $162.65

Women Vote Slowly.
It was noticeable today that the women voters were out in good force. They voted much slower than the men and now and then they reported that the point of the lead pencil they had been using was broken off, while others reported they had spoiled their ballot and were given an additional one. A few left their spectacles at home and borrowed a pair where possible so that they could see the names to mark. The polls close at 6 p. m. and it is expected that about 19,000 votes will be cast in the city.

Seize Poughkeepsie Coal.
As the result of the order for the seizure of bituminous coal in transit, 30 cars are now held in the yards of the Central New England Railroad in Poughkeepsie and 20 or more cars under guard in the yards of the New York Central railroad. Freight agents of both roads in Poughkeepsie complied with alacrity with the order which reached them Saturday morning, and no more soft coal was permitted to be unloaded. There are no orders affecting anthracite coal and the transit will continue unchecked.

Children's Clinic Tomorrow.
Tomorrow the fifth clinic for cases of infantile paralysis will be held at the coast house in this city, and parents having little ones or even older children who are or have been afflicted with this terrible disease are urged to bring them to the clinic, which will be held from 3 to 4 o'clock. Dr. Larry Hubbard will be there to give free examination to the children and will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Nash, of the state department.

VOTING SLOWLY IN NEW YORK

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 4.—Early voting in the municipal and county election was slow in getting under way in Greater New York today. Two hours after the polls had opened in Brooklyn most of the precincts had reported a light vote. Of the 1,000,000 voters in the greater city, one third of them were women and the election officials supposed they would stop to get some of their house work done before going to the booths. The weather was clear and cold. City and county officials and state assemblymen are being elected. In the city "Tammany control" was the big issue.

BOYD'S HOUSE ROBBED SUNDAY

Charles Boyd of No. 131 Harrison street, Syracuse, reported to the police there Sunday night that thieves had entered his house while he and his family were absent, and stolen a $50 Liberty Bond, six $5 gold pieces, one $2.50 gold piece, two flashlights, his gold watch and chain, and a number of other articles. The gold pieces were won by Mr. Boyd in athletic events and he prized them highly for that reason. His bank book was also taken. Mr. Boyd was a former resident of Kingston, and his wife is a sister of Mrs. Charles J. Carter of Franklin street.

Found Car Stolen.
While Miss Hester of Marlborough was calling on a friend who is ill in St. Luke's Hospital, Poughkeepsie, Sunday evening, her automobile was stolen and has not been recovered. The machine was left standing within the hospital property. Miss Hester said that when she drove into the grounds she noticed three men standing inside but paid no special attention to them. She is of the impression that they took the machine. The machine was a Ford touring car No. 414 115. The theft was reported to the police but they have been unable to secure any trace of the car.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN PRUNING ART

A series of pruning demonstrations has been scheduled by the Ulster County Farm Bureau Association which will be conducted in the fruit communities of the county
during the week of November 10th.
Mr. Vinson from the Pomology Department of the State College of Agriculture will give the demonstrations. In the past most of the pruning demonstrations have been held in the spring, but due to the rush of work in the spring it has been decided to hold the pruning demonstrations in the fall. The fall demonstration gives the grower an added advantage by giving him
the new ideas in regard to pruning before he has pruned many of his trees.

All growers in the county are invited to attend the demonstrations which have been scheduled as follows:

Monday, November 10, 2 p. m., at Winne Finch's, West Camp.

ELLENVILLE.

Ellenville, Nov. 3.—The Home
Department of the Reformed Church Sunday school was entertained in the lecture room of the church, Thursday evening. The teachers and officers of the school were also in attendance. The affair was under the direction of Mrs. Low president of the Home Department. There were addresses by the pastor, Rev. Walter S. Maines, Dr. Charles H. Van Kirk, former superintendent of the school and L. B. Tenney present superintendent. Mrs. Maines contributed a vocal solo. The ladies served refreshments and they were enjoyed with a very pleasant social intercourse. It was all together a very enjoyable evening.

"Hallowe'en" was more than usually celebrated in the village Friday evening. The entertainment in Masonic Theatre under the direction of the O. E. S. was well attended and the entire program enjoyed. There were several large parties commemorating the festive occasion and the members of the Epworth and Junior League had a very pleasant celebration at the Potter residence on Park street. But few if any decorations were committed this year. It was a safe and sane celebration of a custom on the eve of All Saints Day which was observed in St. Andrew's and St. Mary's Churches on Saturday.

On Sunday at the usual hour for Sunday school the members of the
M. E. Church Sunday school accepted the invitation of the Reformed Church Sunday school to meet with them and hear the interesting report of the state Sunday school convention held at Troy, N. Y., last week.
Supt. L. B. Tenney attended the convention and gave a most excellent report which was most graciously received to the profit of all who were privileged to hear it. Both Sunday schools were well represented and several visitors were in attendance.

The Ellenville Musical Club will hold its first meeting of the year at Hunt Memorial Hall Thursday afternoon, November 6, at 4 o'clock. The subject of the program which is in charge of Mrs. Edging and the Misses Beatrice and Bernice Gray, will be "Autumn, Winter and Spring." The committee appointed to outline the year's work, expects to have a prospectus ready for distribution at this meeting while the committee in charge of the proposed choral work will have a report to present. All members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. David S. Clemens have sold their farm above the Cape on Ulster Highway road to New York
later.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bradford have returned from a visit with their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Muth at Binghamton. Mr. Muth was recovering from an auto accident which occurred a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Booth of the local news store has gone to visit her son, Ralph I.
Booth and family at Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. Frank P. Cox spent the week end with her sister, Miss Theresa McCallen in New York.

Cashier Floyd G. Garrison of the Home National Bank has been enjoying a ten days' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coffin spent the week end with Mrs. Coffin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. DeVany.

Bert H. Terwilliger, accompanied

NEW EXPRESS PACKING RULES

Local Office Urges Shippers' Early Attention To Important Changes Which Take Effect Next Month.

Steps were taken today by Agent Houghtaling, in charge of the city express office, to prepare for the new express packing requirements, which go into effect on December 10. He has been advising express shippers to study the new rules, which have been approved by the United States Railroad Administration, so that they may be able to adjust their packing methods to the forthcoming new standards.

Under the new regulations, which are embodied in what is known technically as Supplement No. 5 to Express Classification No. 26, all shipments sent by express weighing over 25 pounds must be packed in wooden containers, or cartons of blue-board pulpboard, or corrugated cardboard material, of specified "test strengths." This means, according to Agent Houghtaling, that after December 10, packages over 25-pound limit will not be accepted for forwarding by the American Railway Express Company, handling the express business of the entire country as Agent of the Railroad Administration, if only paper wrapped. Nor will ordinary paper boxes, wrapped or unwrapped, be accepted as suitable protection for these heavier shipments. The regulations, however, do not affect shipments under 25 pounds.

Regular shippers, Agent Houghtaling stated today, will not be mystified by the new regulations, as they follow very closely the packing requirements long in vogue in the freight service. The express regulations, however, allow a "little more latitude in the size of the carton used." The enforcement of the new rules was postponed until December 10, so that shippers would have plenty of time to prepare themselves for this change in express packing standards.

Agent Houghtaling expressed the opinion that these new rules will not work any hardship on shippers, but should operate distinctly in their interest as the rules will provide additional safeguards for merchandise in transit. Moreover, they will establish a uniformity of express packing rules which heretofore has been lacking. The new rules, does not affect the movement of food products by express, which are ordinarily shipped in crates or barrels.

"We believe," stated Agent Houghtaling, in explaining the new regulations, "that the shipping public will welcome the new standards when they understand them, and the reasons for putting them into effect."

"Never before in the history of the country has the express traffic reached such proportions as it has reached today. At the same time, there has been comparatively little increase in the amount of car space available for this business. We have been asked to carry heavier shipments and commodities of every conceivable kind."

"Before the war, it was possible for car messengers to spread their freight out on the floors of the express cars without much congestion. Today we are running dozens of through cars between the big cities, and everyone of those cars is packed to capacity. There has been a similar congestion in the local runs."

"This has made it necessary for express shipments to be stacked. As a result individual shipments have had to be strongly enough packed to be able to stand up for themselves and owing to the lack of uniformity in this regard the new regulations were formulated and finally approved by the Railroad Administration. The stronger containers required, we believe, will very perceptibly help to improve the express service and to protect the miscellaneous articles of merchandise travelling through this channel from damage or interference."

An extensive educational campaign is planned to explain to express shippers how the new requirements will operate in the various trades. It will depend upon the express service for the movement of the bulk of their output and also to insure that employees regarding acceptance of matter for shipment under the new standards.

Agent Houghtaling is able to furnish shippers with copies of the Supplement No. 5 to Express Classification No. 26, in which the new rules are outlined in detail.

Longshoremen back.

After nearly a month of idleness the longshoremen of the port of New York, or most of them, went back to work yesterday. The strike which has almost completely paralyzed movement of ocean freight, caused serious delay to trans-Atlantic mails, disrupted steamship schedules and threatened the city's food supply, was admittedly practically ended yesterday morning when several hundred men went back to work on the Hudson piers. The men go back to work on the terms outlined in the recent adjustment board's decision.

KINGSTON, N. Y., NOV. 4, 1919.

If the heads of the bolshevik regime in Russia were consulted as to the restoration of industrial peace in this country, they would advise handing the government over to the labor unions without delay.

Theodore Roosevelt, who left an estate valued at $410,000, was our wealthiest president. George Washington, the richest president of the earlier times and the wealthiest American of his own day, is said to have been worth only $250,000.

The promptness with which Consul Agent Jenkins was released when the Washington government showed its teeth betrays somewhat of suspicion that the Mexican government, which supposedly paid the ransom, is in pretty close touch with the bandits.

These are hurrying times. Lady Astor is already running as Unionist candidate for Plymouth in succession of her husband, Viscount Astor. This is a far cry from the Hindu widow who consented, under pressure of custom to be buried alive with her deceased lord.

It never makes any difference what happens there is always some one who can hurra! just the same. The fellow who loses, if he is a philosopher, can applaud a bit, for there are times when while we may think we are winning we are losing in the long run.

No small part of the mischief was done in Detroit when Henry Ford raised the wages of even his scrub-women to a minimum of $6 a day and thus, with the best intentions perhaps, bred discontent and encouraged unreasonable labor demands everywhere else in the country.

Mayor Hyland's appointment of Miss Norris to be city magistrate for thirty days puts a woman on the bench in New York for the first time. But she may not sit there alone long, for Miss Rembaugh is running for a justiceship in a district of the municipal court of the same city.

German music appears to be less irritating to New Yorkers than German words. The ban is only on opera sung in German and the suppressed operatic company is now laboring to learn to sing English translations. But it will be all one to a public which is rarely able to distinguish more than a half dozen words of a grand opera.

Governor Smith will have to begin before long to write his second message to the legislature. No one knows just now what he will say but it is dollars to doughnuts that he will have fewer sons in it than he had in his last letter to the legislature. Some of his recommendations have been discarded as wild and dangerous. Particularly his pet hobby, birth insurance, that even his state electoral ran away from as fast as possible. This was to be the piece de resistance and it was.

Within two months the legislature will be in session and the presidential campaign will be well started. The "political" week has been declared and it is a safe bet we will continue to speculate on candidates, state and national. We may not know for sure who will be nominated for president or who will be selected as the candidate for governor but nothing can stop us from having the fun of guessing somebody must be nominated and therefore somebody stands a chance of making a good guess. But don't bet.

THE DEATH OF TWO YEARS AGO.

Peter Ingram, street car faller, died of pneumonia. He had been ill for some time. His wife, Mrs. Ingram, died of pneumonia in 1917. She was 72 years old. Peter was 65 years old. They were married 30 years.

of the heart aches take all the pleasure out of it. Still, politics is government and some of us must take up the joke as a matter of duty.

The drive that is being made at the agricultural department by George Gordon Batlle, of the law committee of Tammany Hall, appointed by Governor Smith, also of Tammany, is vigorous and that there will be nothing discovered complimentary to the bureau by the Tammany investigators is reasonably certain. There is one thing certain, though, and that is if Tammany gets control of the agricultural department the farmers of the state can expect great help from the wigwag. If there is one thing in which Tammany is expert it is farming.

THE MODERN ANCIENTS

Human nature is the same in all ages. Among papyri found in excavations on the site of a Greek town near Alexandria in Egypt are private letters, petitions, law papers, etc., which reveal a remarkably human and modern atmosphere among these colonial Greeks of the third century. Husbands and wives complain of each other to the courts very much as divorce seekers do now. Dating fathers write to wifely sons in college to be good, and some of these boys not only refuse to be good but even threaten to punish offending parents by being naughty. For example, one Cornelius writes to his "dearest son," Hierax: "All of us send our love to you. Pay great attention to your books like student and then you will get the benefit of them. You will receive by Chionphas the white garments which are to be worn with the purple cloaks, the others you must wear with the green. I am going to send you by Anonbas some money and a month's stock of provisions and the other pair of crimson cloaks. Tell me anything I can do for you."

No doubt Theon was just as loving and generous, yet from a son as richly deserving of the cowhide as any modern youngster he received this: "Theon to his father, Theon, greeting. If you won't take me to Alexandria with you, I won't write you a letter or speak to you or even take your hand again. That is what will happen if you don't take me. It was good of you to send me presents. Send me a lyre, I implore you. If you don't, I won't eat, I won't drink, I there now!" These papyri more than 1,800 years old show that, though governments, customs, philosophies, etc., may change with the passage of time, human nature declines to do so.

Keep Out the Moisture.
A very effective agent for moisture-proofing wood has been found in an aluminum leaf coating. This coating practically insulates the wood against any change in atmospheric conditions, and is particularly valuable for use where accurate form and dimensions must be maintained as would be necessary in an airplane propeller.

New Idea in Transportation.
A "Locomotor" has been developed for use in Africa. The weight of the car and cargo is supported on metal rails, but the vehicle is driven by rubber-chod wheels running on pre-laid strips of mud mixed on each side of the tracks. This arrangement is said to be very effective.

Find Out About This Boiler Before You Decide

Go a little slow. The wrong boiler is a horrible thing to have in your cellar. It makes so many uncomfortable. It may even provoke profanity. One thing it certainly does do, and that is: digs into your pocket book to keep it fed up on the coal it needs. Now, it's easy enough to claim that this Kingstonian Boiler burns less coal than any other. But to prove it, is quite another thing. It's this very quite another thing that we want the chance to prove to you. Will you give us that chance.

URGE WAR RISK REINSTATEMENT

Bank: Rating Allows Ex-Servicemen Whose Insurance Has Lapsed to Again Take Out Insurance Up to Dec. 31.

Frederick G. Traver, district attorney for Ulster county and government appeal agent during the war, reported today the following communication, which the Treasury department desires be given as much publicity as possible. It gives additional reasons on reinstatement, being a series of decisions issued by the Director of the Bureau of War Risk Insurance with the approval of the Secretary of the Treasury providing for more liberal conditions for reinstatement of lapsed or canceled insurance.

The provisions of Treasury Decision No. 47, allowing eighteen months from the date of discharge for reinstatement upon payment of only two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated is liberalized, however, that decision is new provision that men out of the service are permitted to reinstate by merely paying the two months' premiums without making a statement as to health at any time within three calendar months following the month of discharge.

After the three months following the date of discharge have elapsed, a statement from the applicant to the effect that he is in as good health as at the date of discharge or at the expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, will be required together with a written application for reinstatement and the tender of the two months' premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

In order to give all former service men whose insurance has lapsed or been canceled, a fair chance to reinstate their insurance including men who have been out of the service eighteen months or more, and who are therefore barred from reinstatement under the former ruling, a special blanket ruling is made which allows all ex-service men to reinstate their insurance before December 31, 1919, provided that each applicant is in as good health as at date of discharge or at expiration of the grace period, whichever is the later date, and so states in his application. Of course it is necessary that he tender the two months' premiums on the amount of insurance he wishes to reinstate.

Service men who reinstated their insurance by payment of all back premiums prior to July 25, 1919, when the decision requiring payment of only two months' premiums went into effect, upon written application to the Bureau may have any premiums paid in excess of two applied toward the payment of future premiums. For example, if after a policy has lapsed for six months, a man reinstated and paid six months' premiums instead of two, he may secure credit for four months' premiums.

The provisions for reinstatement do not protect a man until he actually reinstates. If he waits, he may not be in as good health as he was at the time of discharge and consequently may not be able to secure reinstatement.

BIG APPLE YEAR.

Twelve Thousand Barrels Shipped From Rhinecliff.

Twelve thousand barrels of apples had been shipped by the Central Hudson Steamboat line from the Rhinecliff landing between August 15th and Saturday. It has proven the most productive season for shipment of orchard fruits from that point within the past few years.

One New York commission man has been shipping the products of six orchards which he had bought on the trees.

Catskill, Rhinecliff, Saugerties, Tivoli and Tarrytown are the principal apple shipping points on the upper Hudson. The fruit is well developed, large, clean and perfectly formed.

Vincent Astor's shipment of apples amounts to 3,000 barrels. His orchard of Crawford peaches set out five years ago, yielded 5,000 baskets.

WITTENBERG.

Wittenberg, Nov. 3.—Mrs. Lauretta Short spent a few days the past week with relatives in Woodstock.

Several from this place attended the funeral of Edgar Reynolds at Kingston on Saturday.

Lorin V. Short of New York city spent the week end with friends here. The funeral of Frederick Happy was largely attended at the church on Sunday afternoon. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved family.

Miss Elsie Myers called on Gladys Short of Woodstock on Saturday.

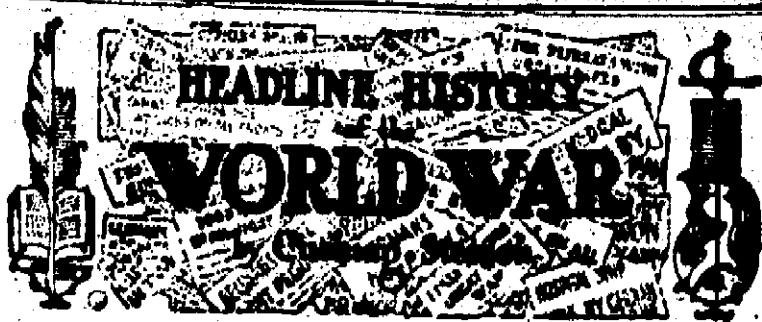

The community was saddened to hear of the death of Hiram Dore of Woodstock.

Miss Hazel Myers visited friends in Kingston the past week.

"LITTLE MOTHERS" BEING TAUGHT BY HEALTH MOBILE

Westchester Chapter of Red Cross Gives Travelling Demonstrations in Care of Children.

The Westchester County Chapter of the American Red Cross, co-operating with the New York State Board of Health and the health authorities of the county, is conducting a campaign of health education throughout its territory as part of its work in the Red Cross Home Service program.

Child welfare is the chief consideration in the Westchester county health campaign, and besides educating the mothers in the scientific care of their children, the big sisters of "Little Mothers' League," its members being taught to take expert care of the babies themselves.

One of the Red Cross ambulances belonging to the chapter has been converted into a "Health Mobile," which is under the direction of two Red Cross nurses, Miss Winifred Noon of the Division of Child Hygiene of the New York State Department of Health, and Miss Jennie B. Arthur, Westchester County Public Health nurse. Completely equipped with a model child welfare station and materials for child welfare exhibits, the "Health Mobile" tours the highways and byways of Westchester county, where the local Red Cross Auxiliary, the Nursing Association, and the Health Department co-operate in securing for it headquarters for an exhibit.

Exhibit in Vacant Stores.

Sometimes this exhibit is given in a vacant store, sometimes in the town hall or a parish house. In country districts the exhibition, with its practical demonstration of scientific care of the baby, is given from the machine, with the group of mothers and children standing around the roadside. In places where there are public health nurses employed the exhibit is placed under the direct supervision of these local nurses, and the county and state nurses act as assistants.

Is it a task to mind the baby any more? Ask Jennie or Lucy or any member of the "Little Mothers." They will tell you it is fun. Now they are not threatened with disaster when they ask to be allowed to dress the baby or give him his bath. They know how to do it as well, sometimes better than their mothers. They have learned it from the "Health Mobile," with its golden haired, life sized baby doll as the passive model. They have learned to bathe the baby and to prepare his food scientifically. And they have learned to cook simple wholesome foods that may be given to their mothers after the birth of the child, for in many families no one can be afforded, and the "Little Mother" is in full charge of both mother and baby. They are learning, as "Little Mothers," what will be an invaluable fund of information about the care of children later in their lives.

It is to make possible community welfare work along this and other lines that the Red Cross in its Third Roll Call, November 2 to 11, will seek to recruit 3,000,000 members in the Atlantic Division and a minimum of 20,000,000 members for the country.

Brought Down to Date.

"Man wants but little here below, but wants that little long," is what they want some years ago—but it's now another song. The words we use are different quite, though fully as sublime. "Man wants everything in sight, and wants it all the time."

COFFEY WINS.

Defeats Sailor Tommy Goodwin at West New York Monday.

Vincent Coffey, the local boxer, met Sailor Tommy Goodwin in an eight round bout Monday evening at West New York before the Internos A. C. and won on points. In the seventh round he scored a knockdown. This is the second time the two men have met, and they put up a fast bout with Coffey having a shade the best of the argument. Local fans who witnessed the bout Monday are anxious to see the two meet again to decide which is the better man.

Have Eye for the Future.

Do for yourself what you admit seeing the other man do. He takes time to get ahead. His mind is his most precious treasure. No pains are too much to bestow upon it. Stork Welcomed in Holland.

A stork is treated with great respect in Holland. The house selected by the stork for a resting place is considered fortunate, and special facilities are provided by the housekeepers to enable it to build a nest comfortably. At The Hague many of these birds are maintained at public expense.

WIN MY CHUM WEEK.

Program at Clinton Avenue M. E. Church.

The Epworth League, "Win My Chum Campaign," of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church, that begins November 9, and ends Sunday, November 16, promises to be one of the biggest spiritual campaigns that this league has ever put forth. The league has secured some very good and well versed speakers on Epworth League work.

The following program has been mapped out for the "Win My Chum" with leaders and speakers as follows:

Sunday, November 9th, Miss Millie Bush, Elmore Winchell, leaders.

Monday, November 10th, The Salvation Army will be in charge.

Tuesday, November 11th, the Rev. George W. Rice, of Phoenixia, N. Y., speaker.

Wednesday, November 12th, the Rev. B. M. Denniston, of Saugerties, speaker.

Thursday, November 13th, the Rev. E. A. Bookhout, of Port Ewen, N. Y., speaker.

Friday, November 14th, Dr. George W. Grinton, district superintendent, of Kingston district, speaker.

Sunday, November 16th, Mrs. S. P. Hines and Evelyn Wright, leaders.

Each one of these speakers has in some way, studied this problem of winning souls and it is well worth the time of any one to hear them. It is hoped that the older people will not think the "Win My Chum Week" is only for the young people, as it is for all, old and young, and also for every one whether members of the league or not.

On Friday evening of this week, November 7th, a "Get-together" social is planned for all and a good attendance is desired, as it will be the last meeting possible before the "Win My Chum Campaign" begins.

Fix in the War.

With the restoration of industry on a peacetime basis, cotton once again, according to recent authoritative statements, forces ahead of linen in the world's favor. The exigencies of the recent conflict raised flax to the position as leader among fabrics, a rank which it had held for centuries but had lost almost simultaneously with the advent of the cotton gin. With a realization of the importance of cotton in the making of munitions, there came a speedy reaction to linen for the more commonplace uses—sail-cloths, sails for ships, even "slings" for airplanes having lately consisted of material woven from the combined flax and cotton.

But flax has reached the end of its days of supremacy. King Cotton now rules in the form in ordinary garments, and linen once again becomes the aristocrat in this field of supply.

Careless Mothers Contrasted with the Tidy in Striking Demonstration by Children

ELLA PHILLIPS CRANDALL.

Children teach their parents in the Mohawk Brighton district of Cincinnati, where the National Social Unit Organization is demonstrating an unusual type of community organization. The above picture shows children demonstrating the contrast between the careless mother and the tidy mother. Nurses of the district, organized as part of a neighborhood council representative of city blocks and expert groups, are conducting a campaign for health education and better living conditions. Children of the district have helped them to dramatize conditions as they exist and as they ought to be and to present them in graphic form to the mothers of the district. A program for teaching the Social Unit idea to the young, and possibly to other groups, will be discussed at a conference to be held in Cincinnati, October 23, 24 and 25.

Executive committee of that organization, Miss Ella Phillips Crandall, secretary, are serving as advisers in nursing organization to the Cincinnati Public Health Nursing, and the examination.

He Knew Papa.

Bernice was just recovering from an attack of the flu and the first day she was able to sit up she said: "Mamma, I'm going to ask daddy to buy a tricycle." Her mother, who was playing in the room, spoke up: "Well, you'd better strike him for it right away, for if you wait till you gets well you wouldn't get it."

Why?

Into the end of the handle of a new toothbrush can be inserted a card with his owner's name.

The Theosophical Answer.

A certain Kansas City physician will never know just how near death he was the other day when, after a thorough examination of probably the brightest, sweetest and altogether supreme nine-month-old baby in the world, the mother asked, "well, what do you think of my baby?" and he said, "Oh, it's a normal child."

Have Some.

Gladiolus, which is a variation from Soline, is similar to a combination of anemone and alstroemeria.

Well, Why?

Why is it that the man who has his picture taken standing beside a vase of flowers set on a table covered with a lace doily is always the man who is reported to the police and the newspapers by his wife as among those missing?

Messing to Messing.

Locusts in Algeria have found a dangerous enemy in a fly which follows them and lays its eggs where they lay theirs.

RED CROSS ALONE SAVED LIVES OF PRISONERS

what the weather conditions, Miss Clearwater was always ready to do her utmost and best for the Red Cross. Her letter gives one of the most vivid and appealing reasons for supporting the Red Cross now, that has been put before the people of Ulster county. It follows:

U. S. A. Red Cross
General Hospital No. 41,
Staten Island.

Friday P. M.

My Dear Clara:
Read in The Freeman, which you so kindly send me and which I appreciate very much as it gives me a touch of home news that the Red Cross is having another drive, and I wish I could be with you to help drive, for everything which helps to make this place livable has the Red Cross stamp on it.

When you think of our 1,500 boys living every day within a hospital and many of them in bed for months and months. Some of them will be in bed a long time yet—away from home and friends, you can easily see what it means to have some of the comforts of home brought to them, and the Red Cross mother is needed as much as ever and some times I think more than ever, for these are trying reconstruction days, for the 20,000 boys who are in hospitals yet. The war isn't over yet for it is a mighty big fight to put these boys on their feet and make them feel that the American people are with them, and one of the best ways to do it is through the Red Cross.

Have been eight weeks on osteomyelitis (diseased bone) cases and it surely is wonderful to see these boys gain under Capt. Craikan's care. He is so fine to them that recovery is only a question of time. Ward 7 is like a big home for the boys, and we have many a good laugh over the funny things the boys do. One boy wondered why he needed a Thomas splint. One morning he found a reason, he hooked his razor strap to the end of the splint, and it made a fine holder to sharpen his razor.

All who are able are put in wheel chairs, furnished by the Red Cross and taken to the movies at the Red Cross house. The theatre seats about 1,200 and is filled every night.

Last week I was put on dressings as sterile nurse on an empyema (pus on chest) ward, and if our people could see just the one case that we dress, they would give their last cent to make it more comfortable. In this one case has parietal rib 3 out of nine ribs removed. He has 4 Dakin's tubes and a draining tube, a cavity which holds a little over a pint. Besides, he has an abscess on the lungs and a hole in his back as large as an egg. He is 22 years old, but looks 60—is nothing but skin and bones. Result of exposure while in the Argonne section.

We start dressings at 7:30 a. m. and finish at noon as it takes so long to get them clean. They have to be handled so carefully. There are 50 cases in this ward. I often wondered what became of so many dressings—now I know, for it takes such a lot of dressing and pads to catch the drainage. We dress them, without irrigating, at bed time. Each nurse has her own particular work and her own patients to care for. I am not doing ward work now, as I have too much work in dressings.

On our porch we have empyema (pus on chest) with T. B. and you know what that means.

You may be interested to know how we dress the cases:

1. Remove all soiled dressings.
2. Wash area around wound with gasoline wipes; then dry.
3. Wash area around wound with neutral soap.
4. Dry area around wound with dry wipes.
5. Irrigate wound with Dakin's sol. until return flow is clear.
6. Dry wipes.
7. Paint with zinc oxide.
8. Cover area with vaseline gauze.
9. Place Dakin's tubes, 1, 2, 3, 4 or 6 into wound.
10. Place safety irrigating tube in wound.
11. Wrap around safety pin with Dakin's wipes.
12. Place on split adhesive to hold tubes in place.
13. Cover all with 4x8 gauze compresses.
14. Cover compresses with cotton pad.
15. Put on binder and shoulder straps.

The boys get mix romica every 1 hour and lots of milk and eggs. These are the cases which try the nerves. Every spare minute is needed to brace the boys up for their know what they are facing and are pessimistic.

My "star patient" from Ward 7 came up to see me today. He is in a wheel chair now. Has been in bed nine months. He is like a kid with a new toy. Has his bed number on his "Feet" as the boys call their wheel chairs.

Today one boy was on the stretcher to go to the operating room, so the boys decided to go along part way. This is the way the procession looked: boy on stretcher—boy in wheel chair—boy on crutches—boy with cane—boy with artificial leg—boy well and walking discharge. They paraded in the name of the "Dead March" and placed a daffodil on the chest of the boy on the stretcher.

Well, must get to rest, as I am dead tired. I am in to 4 p. m. is a long day but I love the work.

Best wishes for a glorious success.

Lots of love, LENA.

Get Rid of Your Gas Grouch for Good

Don't have a grudge against the Gas man. It's not his fault that you persist in squandering precious fuel. He can't help it. But you can, however. Here's how—simply equip that car of yours with a New Stromberg Carburetor.

That's all. Right away mileage begins to multiply. Costs fall off. You go farther on fewer gallons of fuel. Your engine loses its gas greed. Then when you do wheel up to a supply station it's with a feeling of satisfaction that you have had the longest possible run for your money. There is no ground for grievance.

Now listen brother—don't say "that might work on some cars—but mine, well I don't know."

Your car is no exception. Its exact duplicate—by the scores are Stromberg equipped—and are giving more mileage by many miles, than you are getting.

The New Stromberg holds official economy records on virtually every make of machine.

On any car, of any year, of any size it invariably effects greater gas economy. Not only that—it actually gives better acceleration—more power and more speed. Makes a better car of the best of them.

Come in and let us show you just why and just how the New Stromberg puts a crimp in fuel consumption. Put a new Stromberg on your car. Put it to a ten day test. See the savings. Figure the economy. Get the facts. Then if you are not satisfied—we will take it back and hand back purchase price without a question.

CITY BASKETBALL LEAGUE FORMING

Plans are rapidly being formulated for the organization of the city basketball league at the Y. M. C. A. again this season. Last year six fast teams ran through a short season from which the Central A. C. were the victors.

Physical Director Dillinger expects all of last year's teams to enter in addition to several recently organized teams, such as the Victory Five, the New York Centrals, the Clinton Avenue M. E. The Triangle team, which made an enviable record last year, has signed up several new players as have the Scholastics.

As last year, the games will be played on Saturday night and the sport fans can be assured of some very fast basketball. Feature athletic events will be arranged, such as tug of war, volley ball, wrestling for the fill in between halves.

Any new teams that are contemplating entering the city league should notify the physical director at the Y. M. C. A. so that they will receive notice of the organization meeting.

SING TONIGHT.

Community Chorus 7:30 P. M. at High School.

After election there will be even more to tell about our Community Sing. But tonight come to the sing at the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock, and then go over after the sing to the city hall and get the election news. Couldn't find a hauler place to be. If you are a solo singer, show your loyalty to good music, to Harry P. Dodge, one of the best musicians in the city, and to the city itself and be on hand at the sing tonight. If you sing for the pleasure of it, show the same loyalty, and be among your neighbors and friends at the Kingston High School tonight at 7:30.

RAIL UNIONS
ISSUE CHALLENGE

Duty Government to Prevent A Railroad Strike by Exercising Lever Act—Will Call For Strike-Indulgent

By Telegram to The Freeman

Washington, Nov. 4.—An open challenge to the government to prevent a railroad strike, by the exercise of the Lever act injunction proceedings of any kind or the passage of the anti-strike legislation is made by the railroad unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, representing 1,600,000 members of official checkers about to be issued, calling for a strike ballot in a movement for a nation wide strike in the event that anti-strike legislation is passed by congress.

Official circular number 52 about to be distributed among the 350,000 members of the International Maritime Union declares:

"Under no circumstances will we agree to any compromise looking toward the sacrifice of the rights of our members to strike in case a strike becomes necessary, whether said condition is the result of legislative enactment or by any other means used to accomplish the denial of the right of the workers to exercise their economic power, in case of necessity, by going on strike."

The circular calls on "every local lodge" this time, to unite its forces with one common purpose in view and that is of "accepting the challenge laid down to us and to prevent the establishment of a condition that would mean involuntary servitude."

"It is very evident from events," the circular declares, "that with the signing of the armistice on November 11, actual hostilities ceased in the world war and labor thought by the signing of that declaration the world was made safe for democracy. It appears that big business, special privilege and others who are seeking to destroy the standards created by labor, have looked on this declaration as a declaration of war on the union trade movement, both in the legislative and the industrial field."

FIRST STATEMENT OF STRIKE LEADER

Lewis Says It Is Simple Matter For Gov't and Operators To Resume Negotiations.

By Telegram to The Freeman

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 4.—It would be a simple matter for the government and the coal operators to get machinery in motion for the joint system of bargaining to effect a wage agreement in the coal strike, declared John L. Lewis, acting president of the United Mine Workers' (U. M. W.), in the first formal statement he has made to the public since the walkout became effective.

"The machinery of the joint system of bargaining in the industry is intact. It would be a simple matter for the government and coal operators to again set it in motion to negotiate a wage agreement," says Lewis's brief statement.

Aside from statements made exclusively to the International News Service, this is virtually the first statement the miners' official has made since the strike went into effect last Saturday at midnight.

Spanish Transportation Paralyzed.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Madrid, Nov. 4.—Transport in Spain paralyzed as a result of the lockout by employees. Negotiations for a settlement of the labor troubles continue. It was officially estimated today that more than 24,000 workers were idle.

Gulls Forecast Bad Weather.

Sea gulls were seen hovering over Rondout creek this afternoon, and old river men say that the appearance of the birds forecasts a spell of bad weather. Last season the appearance of the sea gulls could be depended upon to forecast the approach of a snow storm.

PATRONS OF THE ARMISTICE BALL

Long List Shows That Other Demands on Their Purses Don't Cause People to Forget City Hospital.

The following list of patrons of the Armistice Ball, although a long one is not yet complete. A supplementary list will be published the last of the week.

Representative men and women of the city of Kingston are those who thus manifest their interest in one of our finest institutions. There is also a goodly number of names from near-by towns, people who appreciate the fact that the hospital is an asset to the whole county of Ulster and not only to the city in which it stands.

Sangerites is particularly well represented on the list of patrons. It is not yet too late to add your name to this. Call up any member of the Ladies' Auxiliary (there are 200 of them), and ask her to send you five tickets.

Every Kingston Druggist
Is Grossly Underpaid
How Much He Gives in Service Compared to What He Receives in Return.
No professional man in Kingston serves the community better or more conscientiously than the druggist. He accommodates you with postage stamps at cost, maintains a general information bureau and free waiting room, his store is a first aid hospital conducted without reward, he gets up in the middle of the night to answer your emergency calls.
Night and day he is consulted oftener than any other, and he gives his professional services without fee. His only reward, and it is a small one at that, comes when you make a purchase from his stock of merchandise.
You accept his recommendation just as you accept that of your lawyer, your doctor or your banker, because you know that his word is good and that he knows best. He doesn't. He knows that his whole success in his chosen profession depends on accuracy—on skill—on keeping faith with his customers.
He stakes his reputation a hundred times a day with a hundred different customers—but his judgment is founded on knowledge and experience—the knowledge and experience of the men of his profession handed down through the ages through schools, colleges and text books—which come in the day's work and in association and conference with others in his profession.
The druggist of today doesn't guess—he knows. And one of the reasons he knows is because he is

Make sure.
The science of bell casting has been practiced in one English foundry for nearly 150 years.
The preparations he sells shall measure up to the highest standards.
To recommend an article, the druggist must of course know what it contains and how it is made, and this was one reason for the formation of a co-operative national association of druggists and physicians who prepare a complete line of household remedies and toilet goods. This association is the American Druggists' Syndicate.
This is the largest enterprise of its kind in the world. More than 25,000 druggists and physicians own and operate it and guarantee its products. They know that A. D. S. Milk of Magnesia is the best in the world, they guarantee that A. D. S. Aspirin meets the highest standard of quality, they stand back of A. D. S. Peppermint Tooth Paste—the tooth paste which whitens like Ivory—because it is incomparably the best. And the same druggist in the same way are squarely behind the entire family of A. D. S. products.
It means everything to you to have such a guarantee behind the remedies you buy—a guarantee based on the scientific knowledge and experience of thousands of experts. When you buy an A. D. S. product from an A. D. S. druggist, you may do so in the confident belief that you have secured the finest possible product at the lowest possible price.
Ask any A. D. S. Druggist for A. D. S. product he has and you need any household remedy or toilet article sold in a drug store.
